JOIN US ON

World Hypophosphatasia Day

OCTOBER 30, 2020

Wellness Webinar For the HPP Community
Including those living with HPP, Caregivers, Healthcare Professionals, Family and Friends

World Hypophosphatasia Day, October 30, 2020 from 2:00pm-3:00pm EST
Optional regional breakout room chat for U.S. patients and caregivers immediately following the webinar.

Led by Dr. Jen Hartstein, PsyD

Dr. Jen is a nationally recognized child, adolescent and family psychologist based in New York City. She is a frequent mental health contributor for Yahoo! Lifestyle and Yahoo! News. She is also a frequent psychological contributor for NBC’s The Today Show, and was a Mental Health Core Expert for The Dr. Oz Show and psychological/lifestyle contributor on CBS’ The Early Show. For Dr. Jen’s full bio and information about her private practice, visit www.drjen.com.

During this informative webinar, Dr. Jen will discuss how to manage emotional and mental health while living with a chronic disease such as hypophosphatasia. This session will include tools to cope during uncertain times, such as COVID-19, self-care strategies such as journaling, and much more! Strategies learned can be applied to everyday life, and are useful for people of all ages.

To register, please visit: http://bit.ly/HPPWellnessWebinar

©2020 Soft Bones, Inc. All Rights Reserved.